

Join us for two workshops with

Sarah Dan Jones

Born and bred in Southern music and culture, Sarah Dan has been sharing her gifts for years in the Southeast and beyond. Active as a Unitarian Universalist musician for the past 13 years, her music has touched the lives of folks from congregations of 30 to General Assembly gatherings of 3000.

Saturday, November 14

Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Binghamton, NY

183 Riverside Dr., Binghamton, NY 13905

(Call the church office 607-729-1641 to register)

Workshop #1 (2:30pm – 3:30pm)

Shared Ministry: Cross Cultural Engagements: This hour long workshop is designed for those involved in the worship life of the church, as well as Professional ministries. We will take a look at Anti-Racism, Anti-Oppression and Multi-Culturalism and how we can build relationship with peoples of all cultures. As UU's we often recognize and celebrate many cultures, but how do we insure authenticity and relationship with those traditions? This is a round table format, whereby we can exchange ideas, resources and ways to be in right relations in our worship and religious education. Childcare will be provided.

$5 suggested donation – no one turned away

Workshop #2 (4:00pm – 6:00pm)

Building Community Through Music: This two-hour workshop is Intergenerational and Multi-Instrumental! Bring your "ax" of choice (voice, guitar, drum, horns) and join us as we identify ways that all can be part of the musical voice of our community. Part of the workshop will be exploring music and movement that we will presented at the Sunday service the next morning, as well as offering an opportunity for participants to create a collective contribution (Chalice Lighting, Meditation, etc) through group collaboration. All ages and abilities welcome.

No charge for this workshop
